Ice Conflicts 2024-2025

Process for Rescheduling Games (TBR's) and Selling/Swapping Ice

Practice Conflicts

- 1. If your ice time is between 6PM-9PM on a weekday or 10AM-9PM on a weekend:
 - a. Email Shawn with the Ice time and rink details. Allow Shawn 5 days to decide whether he can repurpose that ice. The subject line of the email should say "Ice for Sale - Team Name"
 - b. If he cannot use it, he will give it back to you, and you are free to sell it on the Whalers Ice Email chain. Allow 24 hours for it to be claimed.
 - c. If after 24 hours, nobody claims this ice, you may use other avenues you have for selling. (HRM Ice Swap on Facebook, teams outside the Whalers, etc)
 HRM ICE SWAP FACEBOOK GROUP
- 2. If your ice time does not fall between the preferred times as listed above:
 - a. First post the available ice to the Whalers email chain. Allow 24 hours for the ice to be claimed.
 - b. If after 24 hours nobody claims this ice, you can post it to other sites/contact people outside of the Whalers.

Important note - wait until Shawn has sent you confirmed ice times for the month before you start selling/swapping.

Game Conflicts (Games needing to be TBR'd)

- If you notice a game has been input into your schedule and your team is unable to play that game due to a tournament, you are required to fill out the following google form: Ice Conflict TBR FORM
- 2. Your response will be sent to Shawn and a confirmation will be sent to you to confirm that it has been received. You game will be marked as TBR in the schedule.
- 3. Once the game has been rescheduled, you will receive an email from Shawn to confirm the new date.

Important note - it is very important to make sure that your GrayJay calendar is updated. This is used by schedulers to determine availability for rescheduling games.

Reminder - all team activities, both on and off ice need to be input into your team Grayjay calendar. This is for insurance purposes and will ensure the event is a sanctioned event.
